The High Back Day Air Chair is an exclusive product from Cobalt Health, thoughtfully designed to deliver maximum comfort. It features an adjustable air cell cushion in the seat, allowing users to customize firmness based on their personal preference. Complementing this is a soft, breathable, four-way stretch fabric cover that enhances comfort, making the chair suitable for everyday use in homes, hospitals, and aged care facilities.

Our Day Chairs are designed to assist users with sitting and standing, making them ideal for almost any room in the house. Whether watching TV, enjoying a meal, reading, or simply relaxing, this chair provides reliable support.

The chair's flexible and adjustable design accommodates a wide range of user needs, while the durable powder-coated steel frame ensures easy cleaning, low maintenance, and long-lasting performance.

Seat height can be easily adjusted using tool-free push buttons, and the seat depth is also customizable. Padded armrests and a high, ergonomically contoured backrest provide added comfort and support, especially during prolonged sitting.
